

SPOONER MEN ARE NOMINATED

Racine Convention Endorses the Senator in Unqualified Terms

SUPERIOR FIGHTS

Democracy is Laying Plans For Coming Campaign in Dead Earnest

JONES TALKED OF

(Special A. D. Dispatch). Milwaukee, Wis., July 23.—Senator Spooner received an endorsement from the senatorial convention of the third district at Racine yesterday that was an endorsement. In unqualified terms the representatives of the people repudiated the clause of the state platform that qualifies Senator Spooner's re-election and in the following terms commended the Senator:

"We heartily commend the official career of the Hon. John C. Spooner who by his notably able, conservative and patriotic course upon questions of national and international importance has become recognized as the leader in the United States senate. We recognize with proud satisfaction his pre-eminent position in the councils of the nation, and that highest public interest as well as the wishes of the people demand his continued service in the senate of the United States. In accord with this sentiment we endorse the Hon. John C. Spooner and request the senator from this district to use all honorable means to that end."

204 Ballots In West Superior there is a battle royal on. Two hundred and four ballots have been taken and still the deadlock is not broken. Resolutions have been drawn up that favor the Governor, also that favor Senator Spooner. While not so open as the Racine resolutions and instructions the senatorial candidate, the district clearly shows that it favors the return of the doughty Badger senator by the next legislature.

Stock Looking Up. Al over the state the stock of Senator Spooner is looking up. While the republicans of the state do not seem inclined to swallow the Spooner phrasing of the platform still they are not bolters and their sentiment shown in county conventions clearly demonstrates that they are not going to bolt a ticket, although they return senators and assemblymen who are pledged to Spooner's return, yet favoring LaFollette's moves.

In Dane Special sessions have been held in the capital by members of the Governor's element. Talk is rife that a strong primary election bill will be placed in nomination by the governor's faction. That it will not be E. Ray Stevens seems to be an assured fact, but just whom it will be is not yet decided. The other side are talking of B. B. Clark, Frank Wooten or W. R. Bagley. These three are staunch republicans who favor Spooner first and last. The late senatorship is also being put at a strife. Neither side can pick their candidates and be entirely satisfied. The nominations promise to be close with Spooner men in the lead.

Democracy Plans. Mayor Rose death knell seems to have been sounded by attorney John Donovan, who says that he does not think that Milwaukee's Mayor would make a good run in the state race. He seems to favor Burr W. Jones, of Madison, the man best fitted for the place. Mr. Jones is an ex-congressman and is popular with the masses. Vilas Power. Senator Vilas and his letter to the Democrats of the state, seems to have made an effect, although it is denied in many parts. It is now talked that he will be chairman of the convention, when it meets.

SWELL CLUBS CAN'T GAMBLE

New Jersey Grand Jury Is Charged To Find Against the Practice.

New York, July 24.—(Special).—The Monmouth County Grand Jury convened at Freehold, N. J., today and received a charge concerning gambling from Justice Fort. He said the Long Branch Gambling clubs were closed by the court last year. In May of this year licenses had been granted to caterers after they had filed with the clerk of the court a written agreement that no gambling would be allowed. Justice Fort then said that since then information had been brought to him that twelve large gambling establishments and a number of smaller ones were running openly in Long Branch. The grand jury reported seven indictments against alleged gamblers and then adjourned until August 7, when the investigation will again be taken up.

An Exclusive Club. An exclusive club at Long Branch, where wealthy visitors from New York were congregated to tempt fortune on the green cloth, has been raided by Sheriff Davis and a posse. The alleged proprietor and two attendants were arrested, but twenty players were allowed to leave unmolested. The raid caused great excitement, especially among the visitors, as it was wholly unexpected. A large wagon loaded of gambling paraphernalia was taken to Freehold. Cash and checks aggregating thousands of dollars were seized. The prisoners were released under heavy bonds.

FINES STRIKERS IN VIRGINIA

Judge Jackson Sends Men to Jail Who Violated Injunction.

PAY LAW'S PENALTY

Mother Jones Bitterly Scored by the Court in the Decision.

THE FINES ARE LARGE

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) Parkersburg, W. Va., July 24.—District Judge Jackson today handed down decision in the cases of Thos. Haggerty, Wm. Morgan, Bernard Rice, Peter Wilson, George Blakely, Geo. Bacon, Thos. Laskavish, Mother Jones, Albert Repake, Jos. Reoski, George Reoski, Steve Teonike, accused of violating his injunction restraining them from in any way interfering with working of the anthracite mines in the Pennsylvania and West Virginia strike district.

Men Sentenced. Haggerty was sentenced to ninety days' imprisonment. Morgan, Rice, Blakely, Bacon and Laskavish to sixty days. The others will be sentenced later. It is believed that Mother Jones will get off with a heavy fine. This decision is one of the most sweeping ever handed down in an injunction case.

Effective Blow. The miners agree that it is a blow against their cause. Jackson upholds the righteousness of injunctions and declares it is a mistaken idea to suppose that the courts in this country abuse this writ.

Malicious Actions. He says that the defendants in trying to induce the miners to quit work were inflicting great damage and injury on the employers and that such action on their part is illegal and malicious. He denounced the utterances of Mother Jones as the outgrowth of the sentiments of those who believe in communism and anarchy.

Right to Work. He maintained that the right of a citizen to labor for wages that he is satisfied with is right and is protected by law. Open defiance of injunctions he said, tends to promote disorder, which if permitted to go unpunished would sooner or later lead to anarchy. Several paragraphs of the decision devoted to criticism of mother Jones, whose efforts in behalf of unionism is declared entirely unworthy of a good woman.

Mitchell Talks. Chicago, July 24.—President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers denounced Judge Jackson's decision as an outrage. He declares it to be in violation of all American principles and places the courts above the constitution. He said that an appeal would be taken to the supreme court and to President Roosevelt.

ROBERT H. MCLELLAN DIES AT GALENA, ILL.

Had Been Prominently Identified with Financial Institutions and Manufactories.

Galea, Ill., July 24.—Robert H. McClellan of this city died suddenly while sitting in a chair in a grocery store. He had walked from his home on the east side apparently in his usual good health, but on entering the store he complained of an acute pain in his back. A few minutes later the pain shifted from his back to his heart and he expired. His son George, the only other member of the family now at home, was with him. He is survived by several children.

Robert H. McClellan was born in Washington county, N. Y., January 3, 1823; graduated at Union college, Schenectady, in 1847, and was admitted to the bar in 1850. The same year he removed to Galea, Ill. During his first winter here he edited the Galea Gazette and the following spring formed a partnership with John M. Douglas, afterwards general solicitor and president of the Illinois Central railroad, which ended with the removal of the latter to Chicago, when Mr. McClellan succeeded him as local attorney of the road at Galea.

In 1864 Mr. McClellan became president of the Bank of Galea, later the National Bank of Galea, remaining in this capacity for over twenty years. He was largely interested in local manufactures and financial institutions elsewhere. He served as Republican representative in 1861-'63 and as state senator from 1876 to 1880.

FOUND DEAD.

Evansville, Wis., July 24.—(Special).—Edward Patterson, a pioneer resident of Rock County, was found dead in his bed this morning, death from heart trouble having come to him while he slept. Deceased was sixty one years of age and seemed in usual health when he retired last evening. He had worked all day in the hay field yesterday and there was no warning of his approaching death. The sad and sudden event is a great shock to his family. Deceased formerly resided at Judge's Prairie and recently moved to Evansville. He leaves a wife and three sons, Leon Patterson, one of the sons, being a prominent business man here. Funeral services will be held Saturday.

TWO HUNDRED CHINESE TO GO

They Will Be Shipped from Frisco the Last of the Present Week.

Washington, D. C., July 24.—(Special).—The Chinese who depart from San Francisco on Monday can impart to their anxious countrymen the news that the population of the Flowery Kingdom will be increased to the extent of 200 or 300 souls within an extremely short time. This increase will result from the conviction of that number of Chinese now languishing in American jails and awaiting trial. Evidence against them is strong and the immigration officials are confident the majority of these now under arrest will be sent back to China. Recently a large number of Chinese came in through Canada and evidently went to that country with the expectation of reaching the United States in the failure of the re-enactment of the Chinese exclusion law. The officials kept a sharp lookout and many of the Chinese were apprehended shortly after arriving here.

To Enforce Law. Commissioner General Sargent is determined the law shall be enforced strictly. He appreciates the difficulties confronting him, as the Chinese are quite successful in concocting schemes through the operation of which they get into the United States and most of them are never deported.

Malone, N. Y., is the headquarters for the Chinese who plan to evade the law and a sharp watch is kept at this place, with the result that many arrests are being made in that vicinity.

NEED NOT MOVE FROM JANESVILLE

Superintendent Whalen Says the Order Has Not Been Understood

FAMILIES TO STAY

Order Means Simply the Men Re-assigned For Road's Convenience

WHALEN'S LETTER

C. & N. W. R. R. officials declare that Janesville will not lose any families by the order issued by the Northwestern road recently asking the men to state which division they wished to be assigned to and then stick to it. This is the statement of W. A. Whalen, Northern Wisconsin division superintendent of the Northwestern road with headquarters at North Fond du Lac. Not only does Mr. Whalen assure Mr. Gleason, a general agent of the road of this fact, and he also further states that there will be no change in the residence of any employee demanded or made.

Should Guarantee Truth. These two statements over the signature of Mr. Whalen should assure the truth of the statements and alleviate all fear on the part of employees that the Northwestern road really intended their order to mean that the employees would be compelled to move from Janesville and settle either in North Fond du Lac or Chicago.

The statement coming from Mr. Whalen in writing should also put at an end any talk of boycott on the part of the local merchants of the Northwestern road. Mr. Whalen is well known in Janesville and his word is considered by those who know him as good as his bond.

Order Misread. It is declared that the registration order has been misinterpreted by the employees, and they have spread their misconstruction broadcast throughout the city.

Many were fearful that they would be forced to leave Janesville, give up their homes and move to North Fond du Lac. From Mr. Whalen's statement this would appear to be unfounded. He states emphatically that no such a move is contemplated and that no families will be forced to move from Janesville.

Neither Mr. Gleason nor C. E. Ransom, would say anything further on the subject beyond the fact that they interpreted the order in the same manner as Mr. Whalen.

Only Change Registration. The move will mean as interpreted, that the railway men must register under one run or the other and will not be allowed to choose as they will which run they can take as they become vacant. As interpreted it will not mean the removal of a single family from Janesville and will make no difference in the present mode of living of men working on the runs out of this city.

The Letter. Mr. Whalen's letter to Mr. Gleason is printed as follows: North Fond du Lac, July 23.

Dear Sir:—I have yours of the 23rd with clipping of the Janesville Gazette. I can not understand why such a report is current for there is absolutely nothing in it. There is no change whatever contemplated. There is to be an assignment of employees to the two divisions, that is the employees are to be divided, a matter that did not take place at the time the division was divided. There will be no change whatever made in the residence of those employees. You may show this letter to any of our friends if you wish to. Whether they believe it or not, the facts are as outlined. Your truly, W. H. WHALEN.

TOBACCO PLANTS
GROW RAPIDLYFREQUENT RAINS HAVE NOT IN-JURED THE CROP

IMMENSE SHADE GROWN LEAF

Storms in Eastern States Have Done
Considerable Damage—Notes
of Interest

Tobacco is about the only crop in this section of the country that the numerous rains have not damaged to some extent. The season so far has been the best ever known for tobacco. While there has been an abundance of rain to keep the plants in good condition, it has not prevented hoeing and cultivating which the growers have learned is necessary for a good crop.

The crop is coming along in fine shape and bids fair to surpass any crop of previous years in bulk. In shade grown tobacco the growth so far is immense. Plants five feet high are not an uncommon thing both at Schnell's and Heddles' farms where they have considerable land under cover. There has really been too much rain for shade grown tobacco. It there had been more warm sunny weather and a trifle less rain the plants would have been much taller and the topping would be under way. Experts say that so far the tobacco grown here under cover, is equally as good as that grown in Connecticut. However the full success of the experiment cannot be ascertained until the crop has been harvested. If the experiments now under way in this section are a success, there will be a large acreage planted under cover next year.

In old goods there is practically nothing doing. The market is pretty well cleaned out and what still remains in the hands of the grower is low grade stuff.

Uneven Market

The general leaf market the past week was like the weather, of uneven and extreme temperature. On some days, trading was brisk; on others at a standstill. The old stock is being gradually cleared out, though no sensational sales are recorded. Old time sales might occur in binder stock if the prices were not high up. As the holders will not budge in their prices ten and twenty-five case lots are moving in place of a hundred and five hundred case lots. Of New England leaf the market is almost bare, and last year's crop, which is due to make its appearance in a few weeks, will find a clean slate. Sumatra in the meantime fills the bill for wrapper leaf, and as it gives general satisfaction as to color, quality and price, even smaller manufacturers have returned to its use. The Havana market remains steady and fair, the new remedies enjoying the ever-increasing favor of manufacturers.

New York

The extent of the damage to growing tobacco in New York, by the severe storms of last week, has not yet been determined, but that the crop has been severely injured is admitted, especially in Chemung county, where the rain was succeeded by a fierce hail storm, which added to the damage done by previous floods. But growers still have a chance to win out, for many of them had not finished transplanting, and the fine weather during the present week has afforded them an opportunity to complete the work and to partly restore the storm-swept fields with their surplus seedlings. They have hopes, too, that real summer has come to stay, so as to give the late-planted seedlings an opportunity to ripen before frost sets in. But even if every condition remains unusually favorable until cutting time, it is not expected that there will be any excess crop; in fact, it is estimated that there will be a shortage, the extent of which will depend upon a continuance of favorable weather. With this idea in view, there is a quiet, but persistent search for 1900 and 1901 leaf, but obtainable goods are few and widely scattered.

Ohio

In Ohio occasional small deliveries of both old and new crops indicate that there is still a little life in the tobacco business, due probably to the anxiety of buyers to secure as much leaf as possible in order to fortify themselves against any shortage which may occur on account of the poor growing weather which prevailed up to the middle of last week. This shortage may not eventuate, however, for the climatic conditions have been greatly improved and the growth of the young plants has been greatly stimulated. Consequently growers are quite confident that a full crop will be harvested and are more willing to dispose of their old holdings than they were a short time ago. The good prices obtained for last year's crop induced an increased acreage devoted to tobacco, and so, even if the inclement weather has damaged the fields, the aggregate crop will in all probability equal that of 1901. If it does not considerably exceed it.

Connecticut

A severe wind and hailstorm visited the Connecticut Valley on the 15th and the result is a large number of fields upon which the tobacco crop is seriously and in some cases irretrievably damaged. It is still too soon to estimate the damage with any degree of accuracy and the reported losses are now known to have been somewhat exaggerated. But there is no question about the seriousness of the catastrophe and the yield of the crop will undoubtedly be curtailed considerably. One effect of the storm was the stiffening of prices for old leaf, as holders of that class of goods have an idea that the shortage in the new crop will be acutely felt. The rent-grow tobacco practically escaped unharmed from the storm, which cut the open-air leaf into shreds and this immunity has caused many farmers to regret that they had not set out an acre or two under cover.

How serious the loss to field-grown plants can be estimated by the report that in New Milford alone the loss will be $40,000. Even if this estimate be reduced to one-half, the situation is serious enough.

A Decrease

According to the Government crop report, the acreage reported as under tobacco, is considerably smaller than that of 1901. Of the principal tobacco-producing states Maryland shows a decrease in acreage amounting to 2 per cent.; Virginia, 4 per cent.; Pennsylvania and Ohio, 8 per cent.; Tennessee, 10 per cent.; and Kentucky 17 per cent.; while in Wisconsin and North Carolina, the present areas are 7 and 9 per cent. respectively larger than those planted last year.

According to the Hartford Courant, County Commissioner Dewey who is secretary and treasurer of the Granby Tobacco Corporation, which has several acres of tobacco growing under cloth at Granby, said the other day afternoon he measured a stalk of tobacco and on Sunday afternoon he measured the same stalk and it had grown six inches from the afternoon before. Some of the stalks in the tent are five feet high.

Biggest Cigar

Paymaster General Bates, of the Army, possesses what is said to be the largest cigar in the world. It is sixty-three inches long and as large around as a man's arm at the thickest section.

Its composition includes twenty-two classes of Philippine tobacco. The huge cigar is the gift of Major W. H. Comegys of the pay department who sent it to the Paymaster General with this note:

"I send you the largest cigar you have ever seen—at least the largest I have ever seen. It is made of a number of the finest brands of tobacco grown in the islands. This was manufactured at San Fernando do Union, in Union Province, R. I. The case is also a curiosity. It may be called a family cigar, as all smoke it, and the grandmother is supposed to finish it, or the cigar finish the grandmother."

SALVATION ARMY
MEETS A TARTAR

HAS TROUBLE ON THE BRIDGE

A Driver on Milwaukee Street Refuses to Give Right of Way to the Army.

For a moment Wednesday evening the triumphal beat of the Salvation Army drum was forced to cease, the singing of the members died away to silence, and the ordered ranks were broken, while the flag bearer of the corps stopped to indulge in an argument with the driver of a passing road wagon. The subject of the debate was the right of way over the Milwaukee street bridge now under repair.

The eight or ten members of the Salvation army, numbering several women among them, were returning down Milwaukee street to their rooms and had almost crossed over the half-blocked bridge when a light road wagon drove up and would have forced the band to break their ranks and take to the sidewalk in order to allow the two to pass on the narrow space left unblocked by the barriers of the bridge repairs.

Ordered to Stop
The flag bearer of the band immediately called to the driver to back up and stand still until the marching party had passed. Perhaps the command was given rather peremptorily, or perhaps the driver was not a private in the Salvation army. At any rate his only reply was to touch up his horse with his whip and drive ahead at a more rapid gait. At this the gentleman with the banner reached up to the horse's bridle and attempted to stop further progress.

Women Run
The women of the band hurriedly made their way to the sidewalk, the men crowded around the vehicle, the driver whipped the harder and muttered things under his breath. The large crowd that was gathered near the bridge to listen to the Italian musicians who were playing before Burnham's music store stood ready to see some fun.

Trouble Averted
The threatened trouble was suddenly dissipated by the interference of Officer Bencke who stopped up and removing the hands of the Salvationists from the bridle of the horse, allowed the driver to proceed in peace.

JANESVILLE WON
GOOD BALL GAME

FOOTVILLE TEAM IS DEFEATED

Score Was 5 to 2, and the Contest Proved Interesting to Good Sized Audience.

In a closely fought game at the athletic park on Wednesday afternoon the Janesville city baseball team defeated the Footville team to a score of five to two. A goodly list of errors was run up on both sides, but the playing was fast enough to keep the, for Janesville, large audience that was in attendance thoroughly interested in the work of the men on both sides.

Fast Game

The men from Footville started out with a good exhibition of base ball and kept the lead for two innings. Janesville then came in with a rush and gained a start on the visitors, which they held to the end of the game. The Footville team was unable to find Sullivan's delivery, while a few bunched hits at the right places in the game enabled the locals to win the victory.

Consistent Pitching

Sullivan pitched a consistent game throughout striking out twelve men. At one time the visitors had the bases filled and two men out, but the next batter up fanned the air three times in succession.

Thorpey for Footville also did some good twirling in the course of the game.

Loose Playing

At times the game became decidedly ragged, but despite a number of wild throws and poor judgments, the boys did some good straight playing on both sides and fought to the last moment.

Good Audience

About two hundred attended the game, so that expenses were easily covered and a little balance was left in the treasury against any deficit which may be incurred in the coming series which will be played on the home grounds. A number of well-attended and closely contested games are looked for. The management hopes that a sufficient number will take tickets in advance for the series to insure against any loss.

J. C. Kline of Janesville umpired the game. The team took their positions as follows:

Janesville—Palmer, c. Sullivan, p. Thorne, 1b. Connel, 1b. Owen, 2b. Clark, 3b. Aswood, s. s. Fraser, 1. f. Silverthorn, c. f. Wells, r. f.

ILLINOIS MEN SEND BIG CHECK

FEDERATION INDORSES MINERS

Executive Council Approves Appeal for Financial Assistance, Which is Expected to Swell the Fund for the Anthracite Workers.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 24.—Secretary Wilson of the United Mine Workers has received a check for $50,000 from the Illinois organization for the strike fund. This was forwarded by him immediately to the anthracite field. The Illinois miners within four weeks have given the national organization $100,000 for strike funds, and they still have nearly $500,000 in reserve. This donation, it is said, is the largest ever received for a strike.

Wilson has received notice from individuals of checks for as much as $1,000 that are now on their way to headquarters, indicating that the appeal to the public for funds has been effective. Secretary Wilson says no attempt will be made to pay the anthracite strikers stipulated sums of money weekly. "Our intention," he said, "is not to pay regular benefits, but merely to take care of the strikers and their families."

Federation to Help Miners.

The total donations received during the day were $58,000. Word was received at headquarters from President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor that the executive council of that organization which is in session at San Francisco had indorsed the appeal of the mineworkers for financial aid. This will have the effect of bringing in additional contributions, it is thought.

DENY COLLUSION.

Operators Say They Are Not Trying to Deplete Miners' Fund.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 24.—In reply to the charge made by T. D. Nichols, president of district No. 1, United Mine Workers, that agents of the coal companies are circulating among the strikers and trying to persuade them to apply in a body for aid when the relief fund is opened, in the hope that the defense fund may be wiped out in a short time, local operators say they have no knowledge that any of their representatives are connected in any way with the strikers' relief. One operator said it was immaterial to the mine owners to whom the relief was distributed or who should get it. National Board Member John Fallon says the strikers are by no means discouraged, but, on the contrary, now that they are to receive assistance from their bluminous brethren, are very much encouraged.

Edward Jones, the coal and iron policeman who shot and killed James Thompson, another deputy, at Sugar Notch, was given a habeas corpus hearing in court. The evidence showed that the shooting was accidental and the prisoner was discharged.

Dr. Tiffany believes that the cars were infected and that the disease will spread. Fort is pronounced innocent of any knowledge that the cattle had fever when he shipped them.

WILL REPORT MANY CHINESE

ALL GO AGAINST THEIR WILL

Had Been Smuggled into the United States Across the Canadian Border, but Endeavored to Show That They Were American Born.

Washington, July 24.—Wholesale deportations of Chinese laborers who have come to the United States in violation of law will occur during the present month and for the remainder of this year. There is great activity on the part of Commissioner General Sargent and his assistants, who have filled the jails along the northern border with Chinese who have slipped into the United States when the officials were not looking. The culprits were apprehended later, however, and as a result thirty-one coolies will sail for their native land next Monday. They will embark at San Francisco, and come from a number of eastern and western cities, where they were arrested.

Claim to Be Native Born.

These Chinese do not return to the Celestial Kingdom with that thrill of joy which generally marks the arrival of a traveler in the land of his birth. They go much against their wills, and their long voyage is directly due to the wicked immigration inspectors, who offered sufficient evidence to convict the innocent looking coolies of coming into the United States without invitations and in direct and gross violation of law.

Each celestial made a desperate attempt to prove that he was a native born American citizen, but the inspectors would not take their word for it. Neither would the judge nor the jury, and as a result the country is short exactly thirty-one expert laundrymen.

Hundreds More to Go.

The Chinese who depart from San Francisco on Monday can impart to their anxious countrymen the news that the population of the Flowery Kingdom will be increased to the extent of 200 or 300 souls within an extremely short time. This increase will result from the conviction of that number of Chinese now languishing in American jails and awaiting trial. Evidence against them is strong and the immigration officials are confident the majority of those now under arrest will be sent back to China. Recently a large number of Chinese came in through Canada and evidently went to that country with the expectation of reaching the United States in anticipation of the failure of reenactment of the Chinese exclusion law.

Officials Are Vigilant.

The officials kept a sharp lookout and many of the Chinese were apprehended immediately after arriving here.

Commissioner General Sargent is determined the law shall be enforced strictly. He appreciates the difficulties confronting him, as the Chinese are quite successful in concealing schemes through the operation of which they get into the United States, and most of them are never deported.

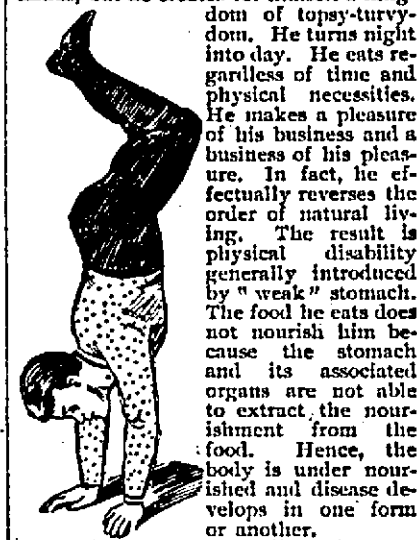

Malone, N. Y., is the headquarters for the Chinese who plan to evade the law, and a sharp watch is kept on this place, with the result that many arrests are being made in that vicinity.

Pitt's Capacity for Liquor.

Pitt while sitting on the treasury bench in parliament habitually carried so much liquor that it gave an anxious clerk at the table a headache to watch him. "Excellent arrangement," said Pitt. "I have the wine and he has the headache."

Topsy-turvy.

That's a favorite attitude of the small boy. And in this again "the child is the father of the man." The man does not essay to walk through life on his hands, but he creates for himself a kingdom of topsy-turvy.

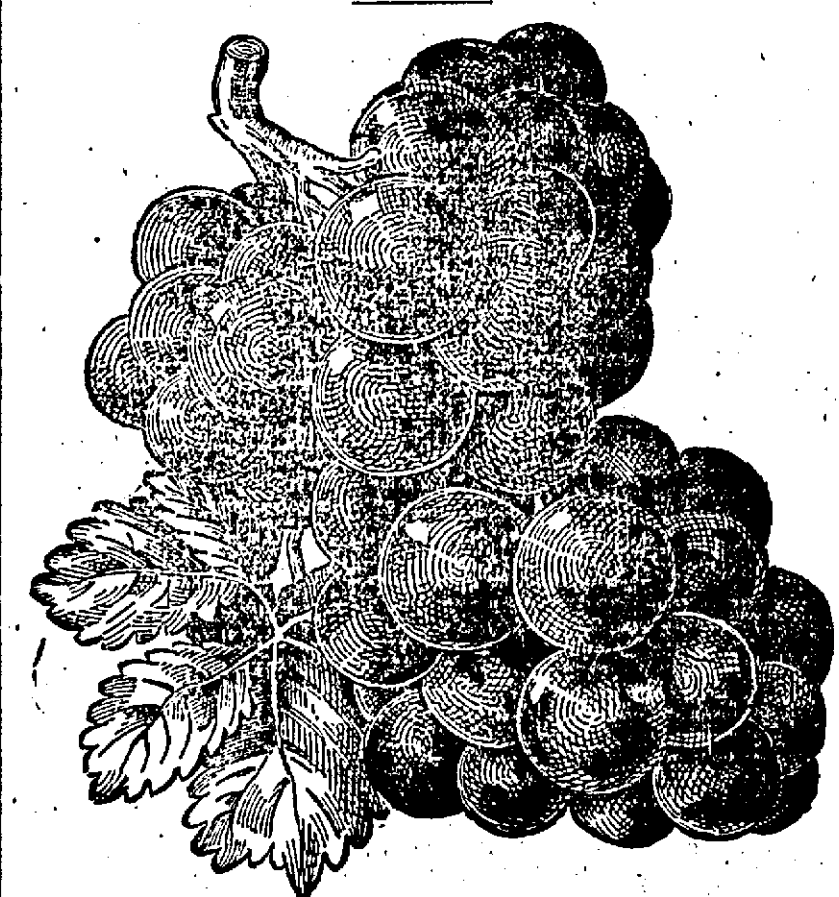

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures through the stomach diseases which originate in a diseased condition of the stomach and its allied organs. Hence, it cures "weak" lungs, "weak" heart, "weak" nerves and other forms of so-called weakness.

"I had been troubled with catarrh of the stomach and heart trouble," writes Mr. W. D. Merchant, of Tylerburg, Clarion Co., Penna. "I had doctors for some time without relief, then I began to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took seven bottles. Before I began to take it I weighed 110 pounds, and now I weigh 166. I am working steadily and feel like a well man. I send you many thanks."

New Era in Chemistry,

An American Company Succeeds in Putting the Best Elements of the German "Traubenkur" or Grape Cure in Cheap, Convenient Form for General Use.

Good News for Sufferers From Dyspepsia Constipation, Liver Troubles or Nervous Prostration.

It is estimated that five million dollars were spent last year by Americans visiting the world-famed Traubenkur Grape Cure of the Rivers Rhine and Neckar in Germany. Their startling cures of Stomach and Liver Troubles and General Exhaustion have stirred the medical world, and forced physicians to recommend them and admit their wonderful work.

Recognizing the Grape Cure as the most potent factor in modern medicine. The Lightning Medicine Co., of Rock Island, after years of scientific experiment perfected an invigorating re-builder, the basis of which is the juice of the Grape, combined with herbs and fruits. It is nature's own tonic and builder. It combines all the best elements of the Traubenkur and is now placed on general sale in drug stores at the nominal price of 50 cents a bottle. It places within reach of all the benefits of the marvelous Traubenkur.

It means more to the sufferers from these disease, than any departure in medicine of the age. You can be convinced at once, because the first dose benefits.

We not only recommend Mull's Grape Tonic, but our faith in it is so unlimited that we will in all cases refund the money in full to all purchasers who are not benefitted by its use.

THESE ARE STRONG TESTIMONIALS.

For a mild Laxative and a general Family Medicine for man, woman or child, I consider Mull's Grape Tonic the superior of any remedy. It is pleasant to take, prompt in action, and the results are wonderful. Its power in building up a weak and run-down system is greater than any Cod Liver Oil preparation. I've tried them all. I write this, hoping that some of my friends will read and profit by it.

MRS. WM. STILES, Glenwood Springs, Colo.

I was an object of pity, for my suffering was great, before I began using Mull's Grape Tonic. The pain ever my back and in my back were frightful. The doctor pronounced it Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble, but he did not help me. The neighbors had given me up once this summer, but, thank God, I am here yet, and I know Mull's Grape Tonic saved me. God bless you and your wonderful medicine.

MRS. M. G. HONEYCUTT, Center, Texas.

GENTLEMEN: I send you the picture of my little daughter, Nettie, who has taken Mull's Grape Tonic and been greatly benefited by it. She was troubled with catarrh in the head, and her general health was very poor. Since taking this medicine she is much stronger and her catarrh is nearly gone. I will have her continue using your tonic until she is perfectly well.

NOT SO SURE

Democrats throughout the length and breadth of the country are rejoicing over the return to the fold of the lost and erring Democratic sheep, William F. Vilas. These self same Democrats who are rejoicing most earnestly, do not seem to realize that Senator Vilas has not returned to the Democratic fold of Bryan or Pfeifferism, but to the good old Grover Cleveland variety. The flock that twice defeated the republicans. These self-same democrats seem to have forgotten that Bryanism is dead and some are still persisting that this fall they have a chance to again gain the laurel wreath of victory.

Col. Bird of Madison, is quoted in a republican daily as saying that he believes that Governor La Follette would draw largely from the democratic ranks as his speech of acceptance at the gymnasium more nearly approached the true sentiments of Bryanism than any utterances he had heard since the "Boy orator of the Platte" retired into the shell of oblivion. Still that worthy added that now was the time for the democrats to take to some good man as the dissatisfied republicans would flock to the standard of democracy if an able man was placed in the field.

Democracy does not want to be to sure of the faithfulness of the republicans of the state. Republicanism is founded upon firmer and sterner stuff than democracy and the old party pride can not be so easily swept aside by the action of one man or one clique. Republicans of years standing are not going to imperil their party influence by bolting the ticket because they do not sanction some of the doctrines in the platform. It will be no walkover for democracy even if she does win in the end. It will be good hardwork, not dissension in the republican ranks that counts.

Chicago has hit a novel scheme of ridding its police station of vagrants. Each tramp that is arrested is treated to a bath. Query is raised. Has Captain Strong really run away with Lady Hope's diamonds or is it just a disappearance of a few paste imitations that will give the actress a chance for a lot of cheap advertising so she can go on the stage again and be wanted by managers? It is known that she and Strong were broke and have been for some time.

SPOONER COMMENTS.

Chicago News: Senator Spooner may yet become so tame that he will feed out of the hand of the Governor of Wisconsin.

In commenting on the conditions laid down by the LaFollette men to Senator Spooner, the Boston Herald, an independent journal, says:

"It does not seem to us probable that a bribe of this kind is one which Senator Spooner can afford to accept, and this quite apart from the importance of the state issues involved." It continues that election under such circumstances would destroy public confidence in him, and adds that he can much better afford to be defeated than to be elected at such a sacrifice of honor.

Columbus Dispatch: From all over the land come reproaches of the Wisconsin Republican convention for its remarkable affront to Senator John C. Spooner in withholding from him a clear-cut endorsement for re-election to the United States senate. Outside of Wisconsin the Republican voice of praise for Mr. Spooner is practically unanimous. There is a feeling that he belongs to the nation and that the Republicans of his state have no right to withdraw him from the national service. Democrats readily concede the national position that Mr. Spooner has taken, but they are, perhaps naturally, a little pleased at the action in the republican party in Wisconsin.

Rochester Post-Express: This much however, may be said: The retirement of John C. Spooner from the senate would be a great loss to the Republican party, a great loss to the state of Wisconsin, and a still greater loss to the United States. He is, in some respects, the ablest senator. Certainly there is no one on either side of the chamber who can equal him in rough and ready debate, there are few men who can make a set speech of greater force, and no one seems his equal in framing legislation upon questions that are both important and difficult. Republicans of the nation, who have taken very little interest heretofore in factional contests in Wisconsin, are now deeply concerned. They would rejoice to learn of a compromise that would insure the unopposed re-election of the brilliant senator, who has conferred so much distinction upon his state and who has rendered services of the highest importance to the Republican party and to the people of the country generally.

Minneapolis Tribune: News comes from Washington that, should Senator Spooner not be returned by the Wisconsin legislature, he can have the first vacancy in the cabinet or on the supreme bench. This was not needful to prove that the government at Washington knows the value of Senator Spooner better than it is known in Wisconsin. It is no secret in Washington that he has repeatedly refused the offer of positions in the cabinet and on the supreme bench, to remain in the service of the people whose spoiled favorite of the moment has just improved the opportunity to slap his face. There are those who say that no people will give its suffrage for long to a man much abler and stronger than its own average; that the populace prefers to be ruled by men not very different intellectually from the mass. There might be evidence of this in the Wisconsin incident, if it were closed; but the cynical judgment is quite likely to be contradicted by the action of the people in choosing members of the legislature.

New Orleans Times-Democrat: When a man such as the Hon. John C. Spooner is "turned down" in a Wisconsin Republican state convention, it goes without saying that the grand old party in that commonwealth is threatened with disruption. Every one knows that Mr. Spooner is today easily first among Republican imperialist leaders in the United States senate. Throughout the debates that have taken place in that body since the close of the Spanish-American war, this senator from Wisconsin, has made a national reputation by reason of the forcefulness and clearness with which he has defended the foreign policy of the McKinley and Roosevelt administrations. It was certainly natural, therefore, to suppose that the ability with which he has advocated and sustained the attitude of the Republican party on the supreme political issue of the day would have won for him the unanimous support of the Wisconsin Republicans. That it has failed to do so is demonstrated by the report of the Wisconsin state Republican convention printed in The Times-Democrat yesterday. And thereby hangs a tale.

Buffalo News: Wisconsin Republicans are divided into two camps on questions of taxation and nomination to office. Both sections profess their admiration for Senator Spooner and their opinion that he is the leader of his side in the United States senate, more than two-thirds of the delegates in the recent state convention, made their support of Senator Spooner for re-election by the next legislature conditional on his approval of the idea that caucuses and conventions for the nomination of candidates to office should be abolished by law.

The scheme is to compel nominations for state, legislative, congressional and county offices by popular vote under the Australian ballot method. Whether there is any sense in this notion need not be discussed here. The point made by the Spooner men is that the state conventions have to deal with state questions alone when they keep within their proper sphere and it is therefore immaterial what Mr. Spooner thinks of such a notion as is made the condition on which he shall be returned to the senate. The fact is that this treatment of Mr. Spooner is in obedience to the demand of Governor LaFollette, who is re-nominated, and is due to his determination to kill off politically the first man in the state.

It is believed by the plotters against Senator Spooner, that he is too proud to bend to their mean demands and on that ground they may refuse to support him in the next legislature. In looking for an excuse for effacing the influence of the state in the senate that is the plan hit on. They praise him in convention resolutions as leader in the senate and assured him that they would be delighted to send him back to Washington if he is really still a Republican according to their definition of the term, the latest Wisconsin gloss. Recognized throughout the country as one of the ornaments of his party and fit for its highest honors, the political badgers of his own state insist that Senator Spooner take new oaths and reaffirm his loyalty to purely local propositions of state policy, lest he be thrown out of political life.

It is because the loss of Mr. Spooner from the senate would be such a grave misfortune to the nation that his case interests the whole people.

PRESS COMMENT

Tomah Monitor: Wisconsin will have a Democratic Governor next term.

Baraboo Evening News: An awful bitter pill, but the old timers are not the fellows who bolt.

Marquette Eagle: Oleomargarine must be labelled now, but poor butter can be lied about at will.

Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin: The Panama hat will have a shorter career of fashion than was accorded to the wheel.

Milwaukee News: It is observed that your "Uncle Isaac" is taking things with the easy air of a man that knows that what he wants he gets.

Waukesha Freeman: Why not make Spooner subscribe to Swedenborgism, or a belief in vaccination, or the short lead in whist?

Oshkosh Northwestern: The fact is already apparent that the fight against the Governor will be carried to the polls.

Milwaukee Sentinel: May Yoke should dry her tears. She is now qualified to write magazine articles, and to join Major Popd's aggregation of platform celebrities.

Sheboygan Telegram: Political madness now reigns in the dominant wing of the Republican party of this state. Reason and judgment have been overthrown and hysteria and folly occupy the seat of power.

Madison State Journal: The State Journal will support the ticket, but give unfolding events the close watch made imperative by LaFollette's slaughter of Spooner. God save the commonwealth of Wisconsin.

Racine News: It is stated that the House of the Seven Gables, made famous by Hawthorne, has been fitted with electric lights, a furnace and modern plumbing. Naught can stay the march of progress.

Eau Claire Leader: The people of Kansas are striving to save their superabundant wheat crop by harvesting on Sundays, while they answer objectors with the argument that the Almighty does not suspend the growing or ripening process on the first day of the week.

New York Sun: The Hon. John Alexander Dowle, "Elijah II." of Zion City, Ill., has made a new prohibition and taboo. He has commanded that no mules be brought into his domain. "Remove, that barren monstrosity where the people of God cannot see it," he cries; "I will have no mules in Zion City." Only asses and jackasses are welcome in that empire of the second Elijah.

Madison Democrat: The Democrats can do no better than nominate L. D. Harvey on their ticket for superintendent of public instruction. Democrats are not quite so hidebound in their faith as the new Republican party is. They do not require a man to declare fealty to every platform item nor to admit the infallibility of the ruling head. Harvey's name on the ticket would sweeten it for the contingent of Stalwarts that are to seek refuge there this fall.

Milwaukee Journal: What amazes us is the impudence of the LaFollette-Stephenson newspapers that pretend that Spooner could have the support of the administration, no matter what the terms. If there is any man in this whole state of Wisconsin who thinks the slaughter of Spooner is not the primary object of the political combination now on top, let him sit down by himself and ask this question: "Has Your Uncle Isaac been spending his thousand upon thousands the past eighteen months to insure tax reform and primary election reform?"

EAGLE LACERATES
MAN IN FIERCE FIGHT

Bird Sinks Its Talons Into Enemy's Hands and Face, Then Disappears.

Baltimore, Md., July 24.—Shas Bennett of Baltimore county had a fierce battle with an eagle near Gardenville. As a result he now bears several bad lacerations on the hands and face which were made by the bird's talons. When Bennett first saw the bird on the ground in the field he thought it would take flight as he approached, but it did not. As soon as he made a pass at it with a club the eagle flew at him and for fully ten minutes there was a terrific battle between the man and the large bird.

Bennett finally escaped into a building. He returned shortly with a rifle, but the eagle had disappeared.

FOOD PRICES ARE WAY UP

LAST YEAR'S DROUGHT, NOT TRUSTS, TO BLAME

PEOPLE WANT FRESH PRODUCTS

Eggs are Scarce and High, Due To Condition of The Weather

High prices are universal through all lines handled by the grocers and butchers. This year is suffering from the drought and scarcity of feed supplies of last year, which compelled farmers to sell their stock rather than feed it for killing purposes. Vegetables and small fruit are way above the usual mark, owing to the shortage of canned goods caused by the enormous consumption of that staple after the drought of last year.

Drought to Blame. Despite the great howl raised a couple of months ago, over the alleged beef trust, the local dealers are able to explain the local shortage on wholly independent grounds. After the continued dry weather of last season, it was impossible to obtain feed at anything short of prices which would be warranted only for the finest stock. The result was that the farmers immediately disposed of the greatest part of their livestock rather than buy feed to carry them through the winter.

Pork Steep. Pork especially shot upward with rocket speed. "With corn at twenty dollars and hay at fifteen, it takes a good animal to be worth it," says one of the butchers. "The price of pork is far above anything I can remember and every indication is that it will go higher yet. It is selling now at more than it was a couple of months ago, and we expect another rise soon. From the beginning of the season we have had to charge higher than usual."

Egg Diet Popular. Earlier in the season it was believed that these high rates for meats had caused the public to substitute for a meat diet one of eggs. Now, however, the price of eggs is higher than it has been for some time and off in the amount of orders in that direction.

Beef Trust Effect. One of the dealers says of this situation that while the rumored beef trust and the effect it was said to have in elevating the scale charged for meats, as well as the actual selling figures, may have done something toward popularizing an egg diet, the shortage now is not to be attributed to that cause. The trouble is rather due to a natural condition that is general every season.

During the hot months of July and August the hens are afflicted with the prevailing lassitude and do not work up to their ordinary standard and the prices usually take the same sloop upward during that period. Whereas the charge for eggs on the ninth of May was fifteen cents, it is now eight cents. This dealer believes that the outside market has no effect on the Janesville dealers.

Tinned Goods. With the resultant scarcity of green goods of all kinds after the dry and warm weather of last season, a great market was opened for canned goods of all varieties. By this time the supply in that line has been cleaned out far more closely than is usual. After this long continued diet on tinned goods the public is, to quote one grocer, "crazy to get some vegetables and small fruit fresh from the ground."

Green Goods. These lines of produce have been of good quality and good quantity throughout the season. There have of course been some districts where the rain and hail has done considerable damage. The strawberry crop fell off very suddenly at the close of the season, and was scanty throughout for some growers. One of the strawberry raisers, however, reports that he made more on his crop this year than ever before. The prices paid to him were higher and the quality and quantity were well up.

Small Fruit Steady. The raspberry crop has been good, although the blacks were much ahead of the red berries. A good crop of Michigan blackberries is looked for although those around this vicinity are not what they have been.

Grocerymen Will Have Picnic in Milwaukee on August 6.

The committee of the grocerymen's association held a meeting last evening and decided to hold their annual picnic in Milwaukee either Aug. 5 or 6. Their idea at first was to have it on August 6, but on account of other excursions on that day they may hold it on the 5th.

The excursion will be run over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road and every effort will be made by the company to give them a good time.

As to Sanity

A petition was made today to Judge Sale to have Mrs. Cornelius Harrison examined as to her sanity. Judge Sale being out of the city the matter was referred to Judge Fife, who appointed Drs. Pember and Fife to make the examination. They found that Mrs. Harrison was mentally unbalanced and Judge Fife on their recommendation committed her to the asylum at Mendota where she was taken this afternoon. Mrs. Harrison was taken with a bad spell last Monday night on the Corn Exchange square during the band concert and has been very bad since that time. It was finally decided that the only thing to do with her was to send her to Mendota.

STOLEN HARNESSES ARE RECOVERED

DANE COUNTY THIEF IS EASILY CAPTURED

CHIEF HOGAN SPOTS HIM

Man Confesses and Says He Got Them in Madison

A young man giving his name as W. H. Miller and his home in the town of Dunn, Dane county, was picked up this morning by Chief Hogan in T. R. Costigan's harness shop while trying to dispose of a set of double harness, which it afterwards turned out he had stolen.

The chief was going up Milwaukee street about eleven o'clock this morning when he was stopped by W. J. Cannon, the second hand dealer who told him that a young man had just been into his store trying to dispose of a set of double harness. He did not like his story and would not buy the harness from him.

Tried Other Places. The man after leaving Cannon's went down to Costigan's and was trying to sell the harness when the chief walked in. He told the young man who he was and asked him where he got the harness. He said that he had bought it from a farmer in the town of Fulton. The chief asked him what his name was and he said John Fulton. Hogan also noticed that while he was questioning the man, that he seemed much disturbed and was quite pale. He asked him a number of questions and finally told him that he was lying to him and that he had stolen the harness. When the chief sprung this on him, the young man turned white and fainted away from sheer fright at being caught.

Stole the Harness. After he recovered sufficiently to talk he told Hogan that his name was W. H. Miller and that he lived in the town of Dunn, Dane county, and that he stole the harness from John Osson, of the same town. The theft was perpetrated in Madison, while the horses were hitched near the St. Paul transfer house. He came from Madison this morning and hoped to have no trouble in getting rid of the harness, before the theft was discovered.

In Jail. Chief Hogan took him to the lock-up where he will stay until the Madison authorities send for him. The chief at once telephoned Chief Baker, at Madison, telling him of the theft and also where Osson's team could be found. Chief Baker said that he would notify the sheriff at once and have an officer sent down to bring Miller back to Madison.

Struck It Wrong. Miller came to the wrong town when he struck Janesville, as the police are always on the lookout for such things as this and the second hand dealers always notify them when any suspicious character comes to them with goods to sell.

WOULD LOCATE FACTORY HERE

JANESVILLE MAY HAVE A NEW SHOE FACTORY

MEETING NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

Mr. Newman of Indiana, is Investigating The Local Field

G. E. Newman, of Rochester, Ind., has been in the city for the last few days in regard to a location for a shoe factory owned by him. He is much pleased with Janesville and would like to move the factory to this city. He is not asking the city for a donation, but has a proposition that he wishes to submit to the business men and citizens in general and would like to meet all who can possibly attend the business men's meeting at the municipal court room, Friday evening at eight o'clock. Mr. Newman has a factory at Rochester, Ind., that turns out 1,000 pairs of shoes each day. He has one wholesale house that takes almost his entire output and it is on their account that he wishes to move to a place where he can build a larger factory and employ more hands. He will employ, when the contemplated factory is built, from two hundred to four hundred hands, and under his present system the factory is in operation 310 days out of a year and may run more. Another thing that is an inducement to get the factory to this city is that when the move is made there will be over forty families come with the factory.

Mr. Newman is a solid, substantial business man and a native of Rock county, who is able to carry out any proposition that he makes to the people. He has a business that will be a great help to Janesville and increase both the manufacturing interests and the population of the city.

Large Arrival of Brushes. Four hundred tooth brushes arrived this morning, direct from the manufacturer, consigned to the Peoples' Drug Company. These brushes are of the best quality and retail at 30, 35 and 40 cents. They will be placed on sale on Saturday at the one price of 21 cents and at this popular low price should be eagerly sought.

POSTPONE MEETING

Heavy Weather Will Postpone Races One Week

The promoters of the race meeting to be held on Friday afternoon have decided to postpone the events for one week. The numerous rains of late have made it impossible to get the track in shape for Friday and on that account it was thought best to wait a week until a good track can be had. The management had the track in fine shape Tuesday, but the rain came and spoiled it. Telephone messages to the horse owners in Beloit, Edgerton and Clinton were sent this morning announcing the postponement. They hope that by that time they will be able to get the track in first-class shape.

PLENTY OF OATS SENT TO CHICAGO

AKRON, OHIO, SENDS 100 CARS

Oatmeal Millers Find Better Profit
Selling the Grain in the Open Market—Patten Returns from Western Trip and Talks Bullish.

Chicago, July 24.—Reports of large quantities of oats headed toward the Chicago market in an attempt to break the congested conditions in the July delivery have caused the shorts to practically stop all efforts to cover. They now entertain strong hopes that when delivery day comes around there will be a sufficient quantity for the requirements of James A. Patten and the commission men who are said to hold the financial fate of the shorts in the hollow of their hands.

These reports, which up to the hour of the closing of 'change were susceptible of only partial verification, were the basis of a decline yesterday in the July price from 66 cents to 64½ cents.

The decline, however, was followed by a recovery, which finally put the market up to 67 cents, 1 cent higher than the starting point.

Oatmeal People Sell.
The oatmeal people are said to be making preparations to at once ship 100 cars of oats here from Akron, O., because at present prices more money can be made selling the grain in the open market than by milling it.

There is also talk of heavy shipments from Kansas, South Dakota and California.

The contract stock at this point is only about 5,000 bushels—too small to be the slightest factor in settlements, which must be made a week from today, and current receipts are running decidedly light. There were only seventy-one cars yesterday, of which fifteen were contract.

Private elevators turned only five cars of the deliverable grain into regular elevators, against twenty-three cars the day before.

Patten is Bullish.

Mr. Patten returned yesterday from a two weeks' trip out to Colorado. He says the oats in Iowa are badly down owing to incessant rains and in conversation with friends on the floor the big speculator took a bullish stand. Mr. Patten refused to discuss the July deal, but admitted that he had bought new July oats freely during the time he was engaged in squeezing the May shorts.

Numerous advices of a bullish character have been received of late from Illinois. One letter from Smithshire, in the southern part of the state, was received yesterday, which stated that oats in that section are down so badly that the damage will amount to at least 40 per cent, adding that there was no need to fear big receipts this month, as it is too wet for farmers to get their oats ready for market.

TWO DROWN DURING A SQUALL

Capt. Calder's Effort to Rescue Mother and Child Are Fruitless.

Savannah, Ga., July 24.—The sloop Lovell Belle, owned and sailed by Capt. Allen N. Calder of Thunderbolt, and having on board a pleasure party, was capsized in the Ogeechee river near Hell Gate during a squall and Capt. Calder's aged mother and infant daughter were drowned. Capt. Calder's father and wife were seriously injured and the former may die. Capt. Calder dived into the cabin and succeeded in dragging out all except the baby Olga, whom he could not find. Mrs. Calder, the captain's mother, died soon after being brought out.

WILL CHARGE ON GRAIN STORED

Iowa Dealers Decide to Require 1 Cent a Bushel Each Month.

Sloux City, Iowa, July 24.—The Iowa Grain Dealers' association in a meeting here decided to make a charge after August 1 of 1 cent a bushel each month upon all grain stored in elevators by growers awaiting future sale and shipment. The charge does not begin until after fifteen days of free storage. The custom in the past by Iowa elevators has been to hold grain in storage free of charge.

Big Fire at Camden, S. C.
Camden, S. C., July 24.—Fire broke out in the principal business portion of this city and destroyed one of the most substantial blocks of Camden, entailing a loss of $70,000, partly covered by insurance. Eleven buildings were burned.

Levee Breaks.
Havana, Ill., July 24.—Five thousand acres, mostly in corn, were ruined by the breaking of the Lacey levee, opposite this city. The river stands nineteen feet two inches and is still rising.

Mystery in Michigan Woods.
Escanaba, Mich., July 24.—The body of a man aged about 40 years, has been found in the thick woods thirty miles from here. Near the head was a rude cross. Officers are trying to find a clue to the mystery.

What They Talked Of

THREE women happened together at the home of one of them. Being familiar acquaintances and friends, they talked freely and said what they pleased. The sun was shining when they began, but it went down across the river, and the stars sprinkled thickly the sky ere one woman spring to her feet with a start at the sound of a church clock striking and exclaimed:

"I declare, it's 9 o'clock!" They talked all that time, and, though a man would scarcely believe it, not one of them uttered a word of scandal, gossip or criticism of a sister woman. The three ladies did not even discuss the celebrated question whether a woman can love two men at the same time. Once, and once only, they grazed the edge of the sarcastic in regard to either man or woman when one of them remarked in a tone expressing detestation not unmingled with horror: "I know a lady who earns considerable money writing papers for club-women to read at their meetings."

But instantly another one of the three, who had lived in Washington, replied: "That's nothing. Congressmen get their speeches written for them all the time."

Well, it was some comfort, anyway, to find that woman is no more of a fake than man.

But what did they talk of? Mutual friends and acquaintances were mentioned frequently. It is true, but it was to say something good of them every time. One actually told the others what a sweet old lady her mother-in-law was—mother-in-law lives with daughter-in-law—and how Mother Perkit poured out love, devotion and service at the feet of Daughter-in-law Perkit till Son Perkit declared his nose was out of joint and that if he died Mother Perkit would not miss him half so much as she would Daughter-in-law Perkit. I am telling you fact, I assure you.

Then another of the three said that any home might be happy if people only resolved they would be harmonious no matter what fell out. It came about then that all three of the women were deeply interested in the theory that by power of mind one could fashion outer circumstances to one's liking.

"I know it can be done," said the lady who loved her mother-in-law. "I have tried it enough to know there is saving power in it. We're none too well off at our house. I don't always have money to get new dresses and hats enough to make me look really

THREE WOMEN WHO TALKED NO SCANDAL up to date. This worried me in the old days when I let myself worry about anything, but now I say to myself: 'Never mind. The new things will come.' Then I dismiss it all from my thoughts. I just know they'll come and that ends the matter. It is wonderful the way they really do materialize when I take that attitude. If, however, I allow myself to feel worried and to wonder whence they will come or whether I shall get them at all, then I don't get them. Being worried and anxious drives them away from me, I've noticed."

"And I've noticed," said one of the trio who had dabbled in women's clubs, occultism, vestibules of mystery, psychometry, alchemy, magic and fads and ologies no end, "that hardly any of us ever knows exactly what she does want. That is why our wishes do not often come true along the thought and will line. Today we wish we had this, tomorrow something else, and women's minds especially are apt to be a scrap bag jumble of half formed purposes."

"It is a scientific axiom that every power and faculty of the human mind is latent in every mind. The beginning of doing or getting anything whatsoever is an intense desire, then a consciousness of power at the center to do or obtain the thing. This consciousness of power can be cultivated. A prime point is to know exactly what we do want most of all. We must get a clear and powerful mental conception or picture of the thing to be attained, then fix our undivided attention on that. NEW MOURNING GOWNS.

Continue For a Widow—Fashions of the Day.

I know more than one person who would be willing to be a widow provided she could be dressed in the new style of mourning which follows the modes of the day and is even more pronounced in some cases. The illustration shows a house gown for a widow. The skirt is made with fan shaped insets, only that they are not folded or plaited, but just set in flat over the dress material, be it understood. These reach to the waist and taper to nothing at the top, spreading to ten inches wide at the bottom. There is but one kind of crape for this, the old English Courtauld, as none other is made of sufficient body for the purpose. The skirt is made of the jet black, frosty eudora, with the silk warp just being visible in some occult way, enough to give the soft luster required to set off the crape. The waist is slashed with insets of the crape, and there is a shaped berth entirely of the crape, and this is wrought into a jabot in the front. The sleeves are of the eudora, with three ruffles of the crape at the wide shaped bottom. The dainty white hemstitched mull collar is a pretty adjunct to a black gown, as black is generally very trying to the complexion when against the neck. Anybody might envy the becoming little cap and floating white veil. The cap and veil are of crepe lisse, than which nothing is more becoming.

For more ordinary wear there are many different materials, such as soft angora, cashmere, silk warp henrietta, velvings, black pongee and many small figured stuffs; also plain black wool serge. Anything almost that is black will answer if there is a bit of crape somewhere as a sign.

Few young women, except widows, now wear black veils save for church in first mourning. Hats are made in all the most fashionable shapes with crape trimming for the first three months. After that taffeta ribbons and chiffon can be used to trim with. Black quills are seen oftener on hats for young people than anything else. Mingled with black lusterless ribbon they are quite proper for any girl under sixteen.

Just now few wraps are required, but for very recent mourning some sort of coat is almost de rigueur. A short box shape with the bottom flaring somewhat is shown in one place, and there is a pointed yoke of crape, finished at the edge with a roll of the same. Below this are deep lengthwise folds of the eudora, front and back. The collar is a standing one with folds of crape at the edge, and inside this is a narrow roll of white crepe lisse.

Black angora parasols and lace gloves are fashionable, and jewelry is of fine Whitby Jet. In some cases surrounded by fine gold wire twisted. This we have seen before many years ago, but it is not so ostentatious as diamonds. And because a woman has lost her loved one is no reason why she should not wear something to lighten the somberness a little.

Handkerchiefs for mourning are often seen with borders more than an inch deep, and then again we will find others where the black line is quite narrow. Others are all white, but are hemstitched with black silk. These are very refined. Some are all white with a black monogram in one corner. So one can obey her own pleasure in the choice of such a conspicuous article.

There are some very dainty little fancies in neckwear, quite appropriate all of them. One has the stock of white crepe lisse shirred closely to the foundation, and over that are laid four milliner's folds of black crape. The bow with its long ends is of black with tiny lines of white crepe lisse around them.

Bons made of black chiffon, with a roll of crape bound around the edges and down the long ends, are quite proper for outdoors, and even the dress in the illustration can be worn in the street with one of these bons and a small hat; but this must have a veil when for a widow, old or young.

For full mourning cotton or silk gloves are not to be worn, no matter what the weather. This remark is made because a lady was seen only yesterday in a grand and elegant costume—all but the cotton gloves.

THE CASE AT CANE HILL

(Copyright, 1902, by C. D. Lewis.)

One day a stranger arrived at Cane Hill. He said he was Charles Williams and had $13,000 with which to start a bank. Soon after a dead body was found and identified as that of Williams.

John Carnes was arrested for the murder. He couldn't explain his whereabouts on the evening previous for a good reason. He was robbing a house. Another man suspected of being an ex-convict, Joel Fisher, was arrested, who also could not give his whereabouts on that evening because he was robbing a freight car. It was believed that he and Carnes were partners in the crime.

Still another man was arrested, a single man who kept house for himself. While no money was found, it was argued that he had buried the sum secured from Williams, and for three days more than 100 people were ransacking his house and barn and every foot of his land in hopes to unearth the treasure.

The name of the third party arrested was Black. He employed me to defend him. My first idea naturally was to prove an alibi. He claimed to me that he had not left his house during the evening. Living alone, we had only his unsupported word for this, and by accident I ascertained that he was lying to me. Three different persons had called at his house between 7 and 10 o'clock and found him absent. Then Black made a confession to me. A farmer with whom he had quarreled had a large barn on the farm three miles away, and Black had gone there to burn it. His intentions were bad enough, but the fire he kindled went out, and the barn did not burn. To clear himself of the one he must own up to the other.

As if the case was not complicated enough, the sheriff took another step. He worked at the two men first arrested until they "confessed" that Black planned the whole affair, did the killing and that they only watched to see that he was not interrupted. The prosecution now felt assured that it had a straight case, while I realized that Black must run the gantlet for his life. The sheriff naturally wanted to convict Black, and when Carnes and Fisher were "pressed" they cooked up a very plausible "confession."

I had verified Black's story. I had gone to the barn and found a candle in a box just where he had told me to look for it. I had timed his journey to and fro and found it occupied the interval stated. I had found mud on his boots which had come from a spot near the barn. However, when the case was called in the higher court I was appalled at the strength of the evidence against my client.

I could only prove one thing in defense—previous good character. Black boldly confessed that he had intended to burn the barn and thus accounted for his time, but it only hurt his case. Everybody jumped to the conclusion that a man who would commit arson would not scruple at murder. It was shown that he was hard up financially, that certain men were rather afraid of him, that he had been heard to make dire threats, and they could not have painted him blacker had he been one of the Younger brothers.

On top of all this came the "confession." Carnes and Fisher had occupied the same cell for days and therefore agreed in all the details. They swore to meeting Black just outside the village. They entered the town to look for Williams and found him on the street. Fisher swore that he accosted him and directed him to the mill race, telling him that the owner of the mill wanted to see him. After the murder all went back to Black's house, where the money was to be divided. He had given Carnes and Fisher $50 apiece and put off the division for a week. While neither saw the blow struck nor the body hung into the water, both agreed as to what Black said on the way home. He had told them that Williams seemed suspicious and was about to run away when struck down.

I lost my case, of course. The jury went out simply for appearance's sake and in seven minutes returned with a verdict of guilty. You may ask what had been done to trace Williams. Very little. He had said he was from Chicago. No one knew his full address. The affair had been published in the Chicago papers, but no one had identified Williams as Williams. He seemed to have neither relatives nor acquaintances.

Black was to be sentenced to death, and Carnes and Fisher were to get off with a term in state prison. They had not yet been sentenced when Williams, the man who had been murdered and buried, returned to town as quietly as any other traveler. He left town on the night of the murder at 9 o'clock, going to Milwaukee to see about a bank safe and other things. He was taken ill en route and left the train at a small village where he had relatives. He had been sick with fever for weeks, and nothing whatever was known of the case.

My case was won by the reappearance of Williams. It was for his murder that Black had been tried. Who was the victim? That was never found out, though it was generally believed that he was one of a pair of bad men who had come to Cane Hill with some evil intent and had quarreled with and been done up by his pal. Carnes and Fisher at once went back on their "confession" and accounted for their time on that evening. This gave them away on the robberies, and they were duly tried and landed behind the bars. M. QUAD.

"Are you J. Frederick Lyman?" he inquired of Lyman.

"I am," replied Lyman.

"Are you a postal clerk?"

"I am."

"Are you sure your name is J. F. Lyman?"
